

Reintegration of Abused Women in Society

- I. Abstract
- II. Introduction
 - A. Thesis- Domestic abuse is a toxic cycle in which women and men are manipulated making it difficult to break free. However, it is possible to break free with the proper intervention of reintegrating battered women into society. This intervention needs to be readily available to provide women with ways to access help, receive behavioral therapy, and build helpful connections.
- III. Sexual Violence
 - A. Fear
 - B. Drugs/ Alcohol
 - C. Stalking
 - D. Effects of Abuse on Children and Teens
 - E. Sex Trafficking
- IV. Effects on Victims
- V. Mental Disorders
 - A. Post-Traumatic Stress Disorder
 - B. Anxiety and Depression
- VI. Getting Help
- VII. Common Misconceptions
- VIII. Islamic Perspective
 - A. Quran
 - B. Hadith