

I would like to thank all the strong women in my life that have empowered me to be unapologetically me. Specifically first, I would like to acknowledge all that my mother has done for me. I can not begin to write everything but she never fails to tell me that I am infinitely valuable. I take strength after her and will never settle for less than what I deserve. She is my role model and I aspire to have that level of kindness. I would like to thank my mentor Hamidah Kaufman for teaching me resilience and to fight for what I believe in. I should never allow something to happen that I can change. Last but certainly not least, I would like to thank my teacher Ms. Sebik for always being an open hearted and there for me, much more than just a teacher. She knows my heart like no other teacher and I couldn't be more grateful. I learned patience and kindness from her. Strong Women empower strong women and I will continue to empower others.
